
Bought A $20 Mini PK7 Vertical for Ubomb from D.I.

The $20 Mini PK7 Vertical needs some fixing (brakes, patched tires, etc.) and I just found out after the purchase it was potentially recalled for a faulty frame:

Model 8596-71T. Guess I will see when I bomb eh? :P

The frame is definitely a mini, small and perfect for zooming down the hills.

The suspension is real nice. Cushy, and bouncy.

I need to fix the brake.. but don't know if it would be better to have a front brake or rear brake. Opinions on this?

Also, have we set any new dates for the ubomb?

if at all possible keep both brakes. after that, the Front is probably the most important.
